Finding Joy in the Mourning

About Janet

After the unexpected losses of her brother, son, and brother-in-law, in addition to her own traumatic brain injury, Janet struggled with depression and wondered, "Why me?" (a question many ask when confronted with loss). Turning to scripture and prayer, she discovered truths about God that before eluded her. Understanding God's desire for living in His joy transformed her life. She continues to live with the inner joy and peace, even having experienced more losses..

Janet brings to her audience a heart for those encountering grief as she helps them grow in their own journeys, and live in the ultimate joy God can bring into hurting hearts.

As a speaker, author, and workshop leader, she is passionate about helping others find the depth of God's love and faithful presence, especially during times of tragedy and loss.

Holding advanced degrees in counseling, teaching, and ministry, Janet uses insight, story, and scripture to bring the message of God's love, grace, and joy into the lives of those present.
